

RDR 1st draft: Masthead Series

Video Content

How advisors really feel about RDR

In this video, Ian Middleton, managing director of Masthead, gives more insight into how advisors feel about RDR.

Click here to view the video.

Advisor reaction to RDR objectives

Masthead has been hosting RDR sessions around the country since mid-January. These sessions focus on sharing the content of the RDR discussion paper and gathering input from advisors. The input gathered will be submitted as Masthead's feedback to the FSB in early March. In this video, Ian Middleton, managing director of Masthead, shares some thoughts, reactions and observations that have come out of the sessions thus far.

Click here to view the video.

The impact of RDR on consumers, advisors and product suppliers

Ian Middleton, managing director of Masthead, tackles the burning question everyone is asking: "What are the impacts of RDR?" He provides a concise overview of how RDR is likely to affect consumers, financial advisors and product suppliers.

Click here to view the video.

Is RDR out to get advisors?

In episodes 1 and 2 of Mastering Compliance Special Edition, Masthead looked at the way the FSB categorises the activities of advisors. In this video, Ian Middleton, managing director of Masthead, focuses on why this is important and comments on whether RDR is 'out to get advisors'.

Click here to view the video.

February 2015